INTRODUCTION
DECENTRALIZED FINANCIAL SERVICES

This last year was full of relevant events that marked changes in the international paradigm in relation to political, economic and social issues. In this context, the movement of people across borders and the migration policies that destination countries should assume are central issues in this discussion. We live in astonishment from the most privileged parts of the world, migratory situations caused by political regimes, health crises, religious foundations and armed conflicts which kill thousands of people.

There are many fronts, lines of work and actions that are needed so that these events and situations can be overseen and mitigated. It is a reality that we must work on step by step and that, perhaps now, the most important thing is that these communities in different areas have the coverage, tools and knowledge needed to be able to approach and face these regrettable migratory and / or low-income situations with the greatest possible optimism.

Bancarization in the world manages ridiculous percentages, beyond official reports issued by banks and / or governments. Financial services for unbanked and banking populations are infinitely more expensive and are even more costly for the unbanked population than the same services for banked communities.

Mafias in rural areas of Latin America, Africa, Asia and other territories economically drain communities that do not have the possibility of having the infrastructure and / or technology to exploit financial services such as using a card or withdrawing money from an ATM. This is because traditional banks do not reach these locations, financial operations in certain communities with current models are not profitable, and, above all, because the people who make up these communities do not have knowledge, do not know alternatives, and do not have sources for information.

Faced with this complex scenario, we have the responsibility to double our efforts to promote the defense of the rights of the various groups. On the part of the different levels of government, civil society and the private sector, policies and strategies in favor of these familimust be coordinated and articulated beyond living over-regulated and bureaucratically unclassifiable scenarios.

With all of this in front of us, we have decided to contribute our grain of sand and launch an improved initiative regarding the task that many of us have been doing for years: promoting and helping in financial inclusion, this time, starting from the democratization of knowledge and with a model that is one-hundred percent decentralized financially / technologically.

INTRODUCTION

Capitalization through knowledge and bringing finances closer to the population from a current starting point, both financial and technological, is our main mission. If two-year-olds get started in technology with a tablet and not with an MSX HB101P from the 80s, why is financial inclusion intended to develop based on banking models from 50 years ago?

We have the responsibility that we have turned into a mission, to disseminate, educate and provide tools and solutions around the new order that decentralized financial services (DeFi) offer to the world, to help unbanked populations in their financial inclusion process.

This document is in its v1 (September 2021) and we hope to have new versions in the following weeks thanks to the international community that is being formed. We have created Gray Ghost Token as a fundamental base on which to build the Gray Ghost Foundation and to carry out our mission.

We invite you with passion, optimism and full of conviction to read this document carefully and become infected with the exciting world of decentralized finance and what it can bring to the world.

PROJECT AND ECOSYSTEM
OUR PROJECT

GRAY GHOST TOKEN is an open platform managed by your community of decentralized financial services whose mission is, through its main element, the token (GRAY), to disclose, transmit, train, and educate in blockchain and decentralized finance (DeFi), as well as offer decentralized financial services, especially to unbanked populations.

Its main element, as we already indicated, is the token (GRAY), which aims to be a general purpose token, which helps when developing solutions and to put in place tools that help cover people's needs regarding financial services.

The project works in three large areas which together allow us to address global financial inclusion projects and defend financial inclusion of financial services at the international level.

① GRAY GHOST TOKEN: Our GRAY token, whose objective is to achieve create enough market for its value to grow steadily, constantly, and with stability.

② GRAY GHOST APPS: Set of products which allow us to create solutions aimed at financial inclusion.

INTERNATIONAL PRESENCE

A GLOBAL PROJECT

More and more influential people from the blockchain and financial inclusion world are joining and actively participating around the world in this project.

At the time of publication of this document (September 2021), work is already underway on different initiatives in all these countries.

This is a project that was born on the premise of belonging to your community, and based on this premise, the governing body and model of management is capable of offering sufficient guarantee to the project in its most critical stage start-up, subsequent launch, growth and consolidation.

During the first year, the governing body will be made up of its three founders, adding new members to the board of directors until a team of seven people are formed.

All strategic decisions will be taken by the majority whom will vote through the blockchain and all economic transactions will be regulated with a multi-signature system that requires two of the three startup ambassadors to sign, three of the five later and five of the seven in their final stage.

All the funds of the issued token (GRAY) will be protected, in addition to being able to be locked, thanks to the balance blocking and multi-signature tools that we have created, beyond counting on, if necessary, other companies and technology of third parties to guarantee the health of the token and the good governance of the project.

APPS.GRAYGHOSTTOKEN.COM

The public sale of tokens will be carried out through our swap, in the apps section whose access will be active once the private sale ends. The public sale will be available in the same location as the private sale or by accessing it directly at the URL apps.grayghosttoken.com.

The purchase of tokens in the public sale phase that begins on October 1 can be carried out with ETH since the liquidity pool created has been carried out with that ETH / GRAY pair.

We do not rule out expanding the buying pairs and liquidity pools. The starting price on October 1 will be 0.000001342 USD per GRAY. You can also make the purchase of GRAY in any decentralized exchange (DEX). We advise to do it directly through our swap, second in UNISWAP (www.uniswap.org) and third in any other way you consider fit.

You will always find the best purchasing conditions directly in our swap and in UNISWAP, since the first liquidity pool has been created on this exchange.
